8. Bangaram Atoll: The Paradise-Like Island

Image Source

This island is often referred to as a paradise. The island is easily considered one of the best places to visit in Lakshadweep, as it is filled with activities for both nature lovers and adventure fanatics. People typically spend around 4-5 days here to absorb the quiet and calm before heading back to their regular lives. The clean blue waters give a sense of liberation like none other. The reason this island is so popular with travellers is that this is the only island where the sales and consumption of alcohol are permitted. However, if you are here during the off-season; the odds of this limited alcohol are also grim. So, while adding the best tourist places in Lakshadweep, do not forget to add Bangaram Atoll to your list.
